

Hammonds arrives in Charlton Kings, Cheltenham

Hammonds, the fitted bedroom and home office specialists invited the Mayor of Cheltenham and former England rugby union player, Mike Teague to officially open their brand new Fitted Bedroom & Kitchen showroom on London Road in Charlton Kings, Cheltenham last Saturday (18th April 2009).

This is the first time the Leicestershire based company has combined the Fitted Bedroom and Kitchen concept. On display is a stunning selection of contemporary, modern classic and classic ranges, including eight inspirational Bedroom and Home Office displays and six stylish Kitchen displays. Hammonds has a range to suit all tastes, helping you achieve a practical yet super stylish look!

The showroom features all the very latest Hammonds looks from the newly launched range of Sliding Wardrobes and walk-in closets, which offers a huge choice of over 1,000 style combinations, exclusive to Hammonds. To the top selling finish of Libretto Cherry Lucé and the classic opulent design of the new Palladian range, both launched early this year.

Richard Hammonds, Chairman explains “We have been looking for a location in Cheltenham for some time now; we feel this area offers us a great opportunity to grow the brand, reaching an audience which will really appreciate what Hammonds has to offer in terms of great design and product excellence.”

A Personal Service

A Hammonds designer can tell you everything you need to know about the process of fitting a Bedroom, Office or Kitchen within your home. Their unrivalled creative, planning and design service is free of charge and will look at your loves, hates and must-haves in order to create an organised environment whether it's a room to relax in, work in, or entertain in.

Hammonds has been designing and manufacturing fitted furniture for over 80 years and because they are passionate about quality everything is made here in their UK workshops.
